PRESIDENT PROPOSES SEVEN BILLION RECOVERY PROGRAM

SUSPECTS IN FROME CASE ESCAPED FROM OFFICER THURSDAY

MAN AND BLONDE WOMAN DASH FROM BRUSH AND OUTDISTANCE SHERIFF

RIO GRANDE CITY, April 14.—(P)—State police, Texas rangers and county officers blanketed border highways and roads today after a man and his blonde woman companion, "hot" suspects in the Frome desert killings, dashed from a brushy hiding place and eluded Sheriff Gus Guerra of Starr county.

The chase started last night when two Laredo residents, Louis Kowalski and Dr. E. Longoria, reached Roma, 13 miles west of here, and reported seeing an automobile occupied by a man and woman parked in brush between Roma and Rio Grande City.

Sheriff Guerra rushed to the spot but when his machine approached the automobile dashed from its hiding place, reached the highway and outdistanced the officer.

Officers here said a couple—a tall man and a blond woman—entered a Roman sandwich shop late last night and ordered hamburgers. The man pulled a gun on the attendants who, officers said, apparently had recognized them as the hunted suspects, threw his sandwich on the floor and fled in the direction of Rio Grande City.

The sandwich shop attendants told officers the automobile matched the description of the year sought.

The man, shop attendants said, remarked he had had trouble and tried to get help from eight persons before he was released. He said they had left Laredo three hours previously. The woman told attendants she had been detained by Laredo authorities for three hours and questioned as a suspect.

Laredo authorities quickly denied the woman's statement.

A squad of Laredo officers and state highway patrolmen spent the day searching for the car, taking a cutoff road eastward toward Mirando City, but found no trace of the machine.

Death Plunge Of Holdup Heroine Held Be Suicide

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—The 12-story death plunge of Norma De Marco, injured heroine of a Greenwich Village night club, holdup two days ago, was termed by Police Inspector Michael F. McDermott today as "undoubtedly a suicide."

The attractive 22-year-old woman, clad only in a brassiere, fell to her death last night from the apartment of a friend, Miss Dorothy Laman, henchgirl at the Howdy club.

Miss De Marco, a patron at the club when it was held up early Tuesday morning, attempted to aid police. She kicked away a gun dropped by one of the three bandits, grabbed at another weapon and was struck heavily over the head in return.

'HEADS UP' CREED TO THE LAST FOR RICHARD WHITNEY

While a small time felon shields his face with a bundle as flash guns pop, Richard Whitney (center), to whom he is shackled, holds up his head as he hustled through a crowd at Grand Central station in New York on his way to begin serving a 5 to 10-year term in Sing Sing. Whitney, five times head of the New York Stock Exchange, pleaded guilty to grand larceny.

M'KIE ESTATE IS NAMED PARTITION SUIT FILED HERE

ACCOUNTING IS ASKED IN CONNECTION MILLION AND HALF TRUST FUND

Kenneth D. Walker, Jefferson county, Ky., entered suit in the Thirteenth judicial district court Thursday for a partition and accounting of the W. J. McKie estate against the W. J. McKie Trust, Frances B. McKie and Miss Blanche McKie, both of Corsicana, and the First National Bank in Dallas, trustees of the McKie Trust. The amount involved in the litigation is estimated in the petition at approximately $3,000,000, including $1,500,000 in the McKie Trust and a similar amount in purchased real and personal properties.

The Walker points out in the petition he is a nephew of the late Capt. W. J. McKie, owner of the famous McKie ranch southeast of Corsicana, under which much oil has been developed in recent years. He alleges that properties belonging to his late mother, Mrs. Eva McKie Walker, were held in trust by Capt. McKie who used properties inherited from their parents and grandparents in the purchase of 640 acres of the A. Buffington survey and 881 acres of the Joseph Broyles survey, the McKie Ranch. Walker says he is the only heir of his mother.

The suit also asks for an accounting of the revenues, etc., from the properties and a complete statement be provided. The petition was filed by Judge J. S. Callicott of Corsicana.

Sale of Mexican Silver Not Been Barred in U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—Secretary Morgenthau said today that the treasury had not barred Mexican silver from sale in this country.

Clarifying for the first time his announcement of a few weeks ago that the treasury was suspending its arrangements for purchase of 5,000,000 ounces of silver monthly from Mexico, Morgenthau said Mexico can still offer its silver for sale to the United States treasury on the New York silver market.

"We buy all silver offered us on the New York market at the price fixed each day," the secretary said. "That has always been our policy and we have no change in mind."

In effect, the only change made by the suspension of the Mexican silver agreement, he explained, was to eliminate the 5,000,000 ounce quota which gave Mexico advance assurance of how much silver it could sell the United States treasury each month.

For more than two years the treasury fixed the price of silver at 45 cents per ounce on the New York market but after suspension of the Mexican agreement the price was cut to 43 cents per ounce.

Morgenthau declined, however, to say whether any Mexican silver had been sold to the treasury under present conditions.

MRS. J. R. COMER, HILLSBORO, PRESIDED AT DISTRICT ALL-DAY SESSION

More than 500 delegates and visitors from eight associations had registered at noon Thursday for the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the district fourteen, Women's Missionary Union at the First Baptist church here. Mrs. J. R. Comer of Hillsboro, president of the district, presided at the all-day sessions.

The principal address of the morning was made by Lawrence T. Payne, superintendent of the Central Texas Baptist Sanitarium, which followed a short business session and a number of reports.

A memorial service in tribute to the memories of the late Mrs. R. B. Spencer and the late Mrs. Frank Weaver, both of Waco, was held before the noon recess.

Mrs. C. L. Bellamy of Gatesville had charge of the service and Mrs. Emma Morehead of Waco was the soloist for the occasion.

Mrs. Roger Garrett of Kosse was chorister for the meetings. Mrs. S. K. Brieft of Corsicana was the pianist and organist, and Mrs. Ben Blackmon of Corsicana was trumpeter.

GREAT BRITAIN IS USING DIPLOMACY AND PREPAREDNESS

WOULD BUILD UP COOPERATION AGAINST REARMED, BELLIGERENT GERMANY

By The Associated Press. Britain tinkered at the machinery of diplomacy and war preparation today, apparently in an effort to use French, American and Italian co-operation as a brake on geared-up Germany.

Mashed developments in the last 24 hours of maneuvering included: Announcement by the Italian foreign office that the Anglo-Italian accord to end more than two years of friction between London and Rome would be signed Saturday.

Reports in Paris that Prime Minister Chamberlain soon would take steps to bring France into the framework of Anglo-Italian friendship.

There were reports in Paris and London that Daladier and his foreign minister, Georges Bonnet, and Chamberlain and his foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, would meet shortly.

Reports in Paris that France and Italy would negotiate a common declaration of intent.

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Gains ranging to more than $2 a share were chalked up on the stock market quotation board today as Wall Street read President Roosevelt's $7,000,000,000 recovery program with an eye to its potential inflationary effects.

Speculators tended to be cautious until they could gauge the meaning more fully. But the shift to the buying side was obvious in leading commodities and selected stocks after highlights of the message, calling for expansion of $5,000,000,000 in federal spending and lending and $2,000,000,000 in the credit supply, had appeared on Wall Street news tickers.

PRESIDENT TALKS TO PAN-AMERICAN UNION OFFICIALS

WESTERN HEMISPHERE WILL NOT PERMIT OUTSIDE AGGRESSION, HE DECLARES

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—President Roosevelt declared today the American nation would not permit peace in the western hemisphere "to be endangered from aggression coming from outside."

Speaking on Pan-American Day to the governing board of the Pan-American Union, the president reiterated in a few words the historic Monroe doctrine—without naming it—and placed it on an inter-American basis. His speech was broadcast to all American republics.

Asserting that the 300,000,000 citizens of this hemisphere have the same material for controversy which exists elsewhere, he said:

"Yet, we have undertaken contractual obligations to solve these normal human differences by maintaining peace, and that peace we are firmly resolved to maintain."

"It shall not be endangered by controversies within our family; and we will not permit it to be endangered from aggression coming from outside our hemisphere. The president added that this common objective "forms a lasting foundation for the maintenance of an international understanding unique in the world."

Elsewhere, he said, there are "aggressive shadows lie heavily on the world."

"The 21 American republics," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "present proudly to the rest of the world a demonstration that the rule of justice and law can be substituted for the rule of force; that resort to war as an instrument of policy is not necessary; that international differences of all kinds can be solved through peaceful negotiation; that the pledge of peace is not a mere slogan but a reality."

Recalling that "all of us gained independence because our fathers were willing to sacrifice their lives and all they possessed for a great ideal," he added that "some part of that duty to sacrifice rests also on us."

"We are vitally concerned," he said, "with preserving the high standards of international restraint and morality which the lesson of centuries has taught is the first requirement of peaceful relationships between nations."

"National and international law and morality are not the restraints of weaklings; they are the standards of the strong."

REUNION WITH AFL BY CIO BELIEVED TO BE DEAD ISSUE

LEWIS ORGANIZATION HAS DECIDED UPON MAKING IT PERMANENT AFFAIR

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—The decision of the C. I. O. to form a permanent organization apparently looked the door today against any reunion with the American Federation of Labor.

The two embattled factions of organized labor, most observers agreed, will prepare now for an intensified rivalry overshadowing previous struggles.

Congress and Nation Called Upon Combine In Will to Cooperate

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—President Roosevelt proposed today a $7,000,000,000 recovery program, embracing $5,000,000,000 of federal spending and lending and a $2,000,000,000 expansion of bank credit.

Setting forth to congress measures by which he said the government could "help to start an upward spiral" and summoning a "united national will" for a vigorous attack on the recession, Mr. Roosevelt told legislators who recently have dealt stunning defeats to major administration measures:

"Our capacity is limited only by our ability to work together. What is needed is the will."

"The time has come to bring that will into action with every driving force at our command. And I am determined to do my share."

The president declared that the will to co-operate places "on all of us the duty of self-restraint" and that "There can be no dictatorship by an individual, or by a group in this nation save through division fostered by hate. Such division there must never be."

FAR EASTERN WAR DEVELOPS INTO NEW BATTLE OF GIANTS

ASTONISHING COMEBACK OF CHINESE HAS PUT INVADERS ON THE DEFENSIVE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer. NEW YORK, April 14.—The China-Japanese conflict has developed such astonishing recovery and resistance on the part of the defending Chinese that many observers are wondering whether Nippon will in the long run be able to play Hercules to China's Antaeus.

You will recall that Antaeus was a Libyan wrestler, the son of Poseidon and Gaia, the earth. No one could defeat him, because every time he touched his Mother Earth he grew stronger.

Hercules finally turned the trick, though. He crushed Antaeus by lifting him up so that he couldn't touch Mother Earth. No one could defeat him, because every time he touched his Mother Earth he grew stronger.

Now it is almost literally true that every time Japan has given John Chinaman a trouncing and laid him out, the latter has hopped up stronger than before. That is, he has hopped up stronger than before, but it really isn't strange when one views all the circumstances.

Quite apart from the remarkable new energy being displayed by the Chinese fighting forces, we get this situation:

The more territory the Japanese overrun, and the bigger the Chinese population they have to keep in hand, the greater the difficulties of the invaders.

The difficulty is that while the Nipponese have been "over-running" territory, they haven't been "conquering" all of it. That is to say, they have been encountering heavy resistance, both passive and active, on the part of the Chinese civilians.

Too Much Territory. Now the Japanese thus far have bitten off territory which involves more than two hundred million people—say close to twice the population of the United States. A mere refusal on the part of the Chinese to co-operate, not to mention active resistance, creates a grave and far

PRESENT-DAY JUVENILE STARS OF HOLLYWOOD WILL NOT HAVE TROUBLES FACED BY COOGAN

HOLLYWOOD, April 14.—(P)—Shirley Temple, when she comes of age, will not have to go to court to obtain the fortune she amassed as a child movie star.

Neither will Deanna Durbin, Jane Withers, Plicky Rooney, Freddie Bartholomew, or any other of the movie youngsters whose names are emblazoned on theater marquees.

The present plight of Jackie Coogan, who has sued his mother and his stepfather for an accounting of his film earnings as a child, which he estimates at $4,000,000, seems to have been anticipated by the studios and the parents of the present-day juvenile stars.

Deanna Durbin, for instance, her earnings (estimated at $800 a day) are handled by her father, James Durbin, who is investing them in life insurance and real estate.

Most of Shirley's money goes into trusts, annuities and government bonds. Shirley will not be able to get all her money in one lump sum, when she reaches majority. Some of the money will go to her when she is 20, more at 30, 40 and 50.

Of Jane Withers' movie money, about $1,000 a week goes into a trust fund, and she is the sole beneficiary. The rest of her earnings are deposited in her bank account.

Bluebonnet Editorial Given Endorsement By Nature Lovers

The following editorial from Tuesday's Dallas News, entitled "Bluebonnets For All," that inspired "Knot's cartoon entitled "Marlin's Idea" with repeating and broadcasting to the four corners of the state:

Bluebonnets For All. Appeals by flower lovers and State Highway officials to avoid destruction of bluebonnets now in bloom along many roadsides should be heeded by every patriotic Texan. Most of the bluebonnets and other flowers on Texas roadsides are not just there by accident. They were sown by Texas Highway employees as part of a comprehensive program to make the roadsides more attractive to travelers. They are intended for the enjoyment of all motorists not for the selfish few who might like to dig them up and carry them off.

Cutting or damaging of roadside flowers or shrubs is a violation of Texas law. Even if it were not a misdemeanor, such vandalism would remain a violation of good citizenship. Bluebonnets may be grown cheaply at home or obtained from sources

YOUR GARDEN: 2. PLANTING THE PERFECT SOWER USES PLENTY OF ELBOW GREASE

(Second of Four Articles)

Plants will grow in almost any kind of soil, but the backyard gardener will give them a break—and himself, too—if he provides the right kind.

Most important, says horticulturist Montague Free, is that the soil contain enough humus—partly decomposed organic material. (If you are in doubt, you can send a sample to your state agricultural experiment station.) Humus lightens a heavy soil and helps it retain moisture. Some of its sources are manures, peatmoss, garbage, grass clippings, tree leaves.

Making Your Humus For the average garden M. Free, author of the new Harcourt Brace book "Garden- I DON'T HAVE ING," suggests "TO PLANT SO INCH LAYER OF MANY SEEDS!"

PROGRESS OF RURAL ELECTRIFICATION IS TOLD TO ROTARIANS

CLYDE KIMES WAS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT WEDNESDAY CLUB LUNCHEON

Recent progress that has been made by the Rural Electrification association in Navarro county was told members of the Rotary club at their noon luncheon Wednesday at the Navarro hotel by Clyde Kimes, head of the local organization. He said the contract had been let for $85,000 for 135 miles of lines and those in charge of the work hoped to get the poles up within 15 days.

Jimmie McCammon and Ed Surber had charge of today's program, and Dr. R. C. Curtis, president, appointed Kirby Wilson and B. C. McDonald in charge of next Wednesday's program. J. W. Elliott, Mexia rotarian was a visitor today, and A. L. Bean, a former member of the Eastland Rotary club was introduced as a new member.

The club voted to have a night meeting April 27 to observe the 17th anniversary of the organization of the Rotary here, and to make a special effort to have a large number of the charter members present.

Mr. McCammon introduced Mr. Kimes.

The speaker said about 45 days had been lost recently because of the rain and of changes in rules of operation of the REA, but that the contract had been approved for $85,000 for 135 miles of lines. Mr. Kimes said those in charge hope to have some of the poles up within 15 days. He said the General Electric company and its subsidiaries had selected a home near Dawson on highway 31 to wire and equip as the first typical farm electrical installation. The home and farm will be wired just exactly as it should be done, with the type of equipment that will be within the price range of the average farmer. A local merchant will install appliances in the house, which will be open for inspection for from 60 to 90 days. Mr. Kimes said the company will take motion pictures of the installation, and give it publicity throughout the United States.

He thanked Corsicana merchants and businessmen for their fine co-operation in encouraging the REA work, and said he believed it will bring rich dividends to Corsicana business.

The Doctor MUST Give Service

A Medical Clientele Is Based On Confidence

Much of the Patient's response to treatment depends on confidence in his Doctor. Not only is there a physical reaction to this feeling of confidence in the method of treatment, but the fact that you believe in your Doctor, causes you to follow instructions more carefully.

This confidence of the Patient can come about through only one thing—satisfactory service and the knowledge that your Doctor is competent.

This confidence of the Patient, is the chief foundation of a Doctor's practice.

Naturally, it is up to the Doctor to render the highest type of service, if for no other than selfish reasons.

HOUSE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS LARGE SUM AGRICULTURE ALMOST HALF BILLION DOLLARS GO FOR FARM BENEFIT PAYMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—The house appropriations committee recommended $795,785,515 for the agriculture department's use during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Augmented by automatic annual appropriations, chief of which is $147,000,000 for surplus commodity purchases, funds available to the department for spending during the year will total $942,785,515. The surplus commodity program is financed by earmarking 30 per cent of tariff receipts.

The flexible appropriation—$795,785,515—recommended to congress by the committee was $72,875,684 less than for the current year and about $10,500,000 less than the budget bureau's estimate submitted to President Roosevelt six months ago for the coming year.

The committee, slashing here and adding there, made its big change from this year's figures by cutting the bureau of roads appropriation $74,500,000. This was done by holding the appropriation to the bureau's prospective estimate between July 1 and next January 1. In anticipation of legislation recommended by the President to cut down federal highway aid.

The road changes made were: Cut $150,000,000 for primary roads to $65,000,000; doubled $5,000,000 for feeder roads; eliminated $2,600,000 for public land roads; doubled $10,000,000 for elimination of grade crossings.

There was also a separate appropriation of $7,000,000 for forest roads and trails. It is not administered by the bureau but by the forest service.

Crop Insurance Fund. Basing its recommendations on sums spent and to be spent during the current year and adding $25,000,000 for crop insurance, the committee proposed $485,000,000 for benefit payments and other expenses under the farm act. This is $150,000,000 less than is authorized.

The committee also approved $1,000,000 of a $5,000,000 authorization for establishment of four regional agricultural laboratories but rejected a budget bureau recommendation for a $1,000,000 expenditure by Secretary Roper to promote sale of farm commodities.

The bill carries $5,300,000 for control of Bang's disease (chronic abortion) in cattle—$7,327,600 below the figure for the current year—and $2,803,000 for elimination of cattle tuberculosis—$300,000 below the fund for this year.

Other major items in the big bill: $6,232,500 for grants to states for experiment stations; $18,614,112 for forest service (not including roads and trails); $23,625,000 for soil conservation; $6,550,000 for farm credit administration; $65,000,000 for sugar benefit pay-

Fruit Damaged Badly By Recent Cold In Nation

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—The weather bureau said today reports from regions where cold weather held away last week indicated early fruits had been damaged seriously, but that wheat and spring crops had been helped.

Frost and freezing damage to fruits was heaviest, the bureau said, in the Ohio valley, Missouri, Kansas, Michigan, and in the mountain sections of the Carolinas and portions of Virginia and West Virginia.

The bureau added, however, that the snow and rain served to replenish moisture ground supplies in corn and great plains states, and thereby placed these areas in better shape for the summer growing season.

The heaviest snow of record for late in this season fell in Kansas, the bureau said, adding that it should be of "immense value" to winter wheat and other crops there.

ments; $14,036,172 for the extension service; $19,500,000 for the farm tenant act.

Predatory Animal Control Funds

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—The house appropriations committee, disregarding pleas for an increase, recommended today that congress provide $612,000 for control and eradication of predatory animals during the 1938-39 fiscal year.

The amount, approved by the budget bureau, was included in the annual agriculture department supply bill, which the committee introduced.

Representative South (D-Tex.) and others had urged the committee to increase the budget estimate to an authorized $1,000,000.

"Federal money in the amount of $34,350 was made available in Texas last year for coyotes, wolves, bobcats and other predatory animals, and $19,040 was expended in the fight on prairie dogs, rats and other smaller animals," South said.

"The Texas legislature supplemented this amount by appropriating approximately $145,000 and our Texas counties and ranchmen raised about $90,000, making available for this work in Texas a grand total of $239,410, x x x."

"Our ranchmen feel that if the federal government could match their contributions dollar for dollar, the situation would be much more satisfactory."

His arguments were supported by Representatives Kieberg, (D-Texas), Thompson (D-Texas) and Johnson (D-Oklahoma), and Roscoe Runge, attorney for the Texas predatory animal control association.

MAN MUST DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR MURDER OF WIFE

COURT CRIMINAL APPEALS UPHOLDS VERDICT TRIAL COURT IN CASE

AUSTIN, April 13. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today agreed with an El Paso district court jury that Collin H. Morgan must die in the electric chair for fatally choking and beating his wife, Eleanor Morgan, during a card game in their apartment June 20, 1937.

Ignorance was the main issue in Morgan's effort to get the conviction reversed but the appellate court held the trial court was correct in not allowing him a continuance of trial on the murder indictment after Morgan claimed he had a right to appeal from the judgment of a previous sanity hearing.

There could have been no appeal from the sanity hearing, the appellate court said, because Morgan, found sane at the previous hearing, obviously was still sane when trial of the indictment was ordered.

The Morgans had separated but agreed on a trial reconciliation when the crime occurred. The state charged they were sitting on the floor playing cards when Morgan, without warning, seized his wife by the neck and choked her to death with a pop bottle and then wrapped a lamp cord around her neck and tied it securely.

Other sentences affirmed. The court affirmed sentences of Harold Rylee, Erath county, given 23 years for fatally shooting T. C. Mitchell, Aug. 27, 1934; John Price, Dallas county, five years for killing Willie B. Hamilton, June 20, 1936, and Corinne Robinson, Wharton county, five years for shooting her husband, Tom Robinson, in a quarrel at their restaurant, Dec. 27, 1937.

It reversed and remanded a $100 fine assessed Mary West of Zavala county for violation of the election law in school trustee election at Batesville. The court said the facts were insufficient to support the conviction and the trial court erred by not granting the appellant's request for certain instructions of the jury.

State Senator J. Franklin Separs and E. B. Simmons of San Antonio, argued orally before the court for a reversal of the death penalty assessed Jesse Polanco of Bexar county for the slaying of George Forbes, a bus driver, in May of 1936.

Assistant District Attorney LeRoy Jeffers pleaded evidence of jury misconduct was not sufficient for reversal. A previous death penalty for Polanco had been reversed.

Preliminary Work For County Fair Plant Is Pushed

Officials of the Corsicana Live-stock and Agricultural Show are now engaged in securing plans and specifications of standard rodeo and horse show arenas in other sections of the state and the assembling of the necessary data for the planning of the first unit of the permanent fair plant for Navarro county and Central Texas, according to A. F. Mitchell, chairman of the planning committee.

Every effort will be made, the chairman said, to properly utilize all of the site purchased last week for the greatest benefit to the community. A large scale plat of the land will be prepared and the locations of the various units studied carefully before construction is started in order to meet all the necessary requirements for exhibits to be placed in the buildings.

Work is expected to start shortly on the plans for the structures, and emphasis at the present time is being placed on converting the subscriptions to the stock association into cash, officials said.

JACKIE COOGAN FILES SUIT TO RECOVER $4,000,000 FROM HIS MOTHER AND STEP-FATHER

LOS ANGELES, April 12. (AP)—A bitter legal fight loomed today over Jackie Coogan's suit demanding that his mother and step-father turn over to him $4,000,000 he said he earned as a child screen star.

Charles J. Katz, counsel for the step-father, Arthur Bernstein, characterized Coogan's charges as absurd.

"The young man has received everything he is entitled to, and more," he declared. "His mother was entitled to all his earnings up to the time he became of age."

Katz also said that Coogan's estimate of his screen earnings was much too high.

Coogan, now 22, and married to actress Betty Grable, filed his suit yesterday, charging that his mother and Bernstein withheld his money from him. He quoted his mother as having said, when he asked her about the matter: "You haven't got a cent. There never has been a cent belonging to you. It's all mine and Arthur's and so far as we are concerned you never will get a cent."

Explaining his action, Coogan the "Kid" of silent pictures, said: "I have waited patiently for some time for my mother, and Mr. Bernstein to make an accounting to me of my property. I owe a duty to my wife and to myself not to wait longer."

"It is a course which I deeply regret to take. It is my intention at all times to see that my mother and my little brother are amply provided for. I am satisfied if she were not under the influence of Bernstein she would have made a proper accounting to me long ago."

When he became of age, he said, even his small spending allowance was stopped by his mother and Bernstein and he has since been dependent upon occasional stage and screen engagements to earn his living.

Bernstein, financial advisor to the late Mr. Coogan, continued after his death as administrator of Jackie's property. In December, 1936, he married the widow, just a year before Jackie's marriage to Miss Grable.

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE TELLS OF TURNING LAND NEAR DESERT INTO CORN PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—The soil conservation service told today of turning land "rapidly approaching a desert status" into a valley of abundant corn crops.

Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the service, said the land was on the vast Navajo Indian reservation in the Southwest.

The depletion of land value, he added, was due to the enormous increase in population, with a corresponding increase in the flocks of sheep and goats and number of horses, with no increase to amount to anything in their land area.

"Consequently," he said in hearings on the agricultural department appropriations bill published today, "there has been an enormous demand for more and more forage, resulting in severe overgrazing of vegetative cover."

He declared that the reservation was approaching desert status before the service began work, then explaining results.

"One item of work there was the building of an inexpensive gully, which was cutting out some rich valley land. It was extensive and was not only taking off the soil, but was carrying this material directly into the Boulder Dam reservoir. After the construction of this earthen dam, water was diverted and spread over some 500 acres, resulting in a splendid growth of grass."

"The result was that in this area, where there was no grass and where the land was getting close to a desert condition, the Indians have grown a wonderful crop of corn on 300 of the 500 acres."

CROWLEY RESIGNS POSTAL POSITION RUN FOR GOVERNOR

OBSERVERS SEE ADMINISTRATION ENDORSEMENT IN FARLEY LETTER

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—Karl A. Crowley resigned today as solicitor of the postoffice department and received what some observers believed might be an administration endorsement of his candidacy for governor of Texas.

Crowley tossed his hat into the Texas gubernatorial ring two weeks ago and submitted his resignation today, effective April 10.

The phrase that aroused speculation appeared in Postmaster General Farley's letter accepting the resignation. Farley, chairman of the democratic national committee, said:

"You have now, and will always have my very best wishes for your continued good health and your future success."

Farley is scheduled to be toastmaster at a testimonial dinner to be given Crowley by his friends Thursday night. Secretary Hull and Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) were among those listed as speakers.

The solicitor made no mention of political aspirations in his letter of resignation. He left the postal service with "deep and sincere regret," he said.

In reply, Farley recalled that April 19 would mark Crowley's completion of five years' service with the postoffice department.

"During the time you have been solicitor you have performed the duties of that office in an eminently satisfactory manner, and it can be truthfully said that the record of that office under your supervision stands out in an exceptional manner in the history of the department," the postmaster general wrote.

New York State Bans Marriage Of Syphilis Victims

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12. (AP)—New York state banned today the marriage after July 1 of persons with communicable syphilis. Governor Lehman signed a bill requiring all prospective newlyweds to submit to a physician's examination and blood test before applying for a marriage license, which may be issued only if a physician certifies the persons are not infected with syphilis or, if so, not in a communicable stage. The law specifies the examination and blood test be made not more than 20 days preceding application for a license and that the ceremony must be performed within 60 days after the license is granted.

NYA OFFICIALS HERE PLANNING TO START TWO NEW PROJECTS

FORTY BOYS BETWEEN 18
AND 24 YEARS WILL BE GIVEN EMPLOYMENT

J. M. Dark, of Mexia, project supervisor of the Navarro and Limestone counties office of the National Youth Administration, was in Corsicana Wednesday conferring with city and school officials relative to opening two new projects in the city, which will employ about 40 boys per month between the ages of 18 and 24 years.

Ten boys, he said, are to be employed by the Corsicana public schools to work on yard and property improvements and to do repair work about the buildings. The object of this part-time work will be to enable the boys to assist their parents in support of their families and to give them practical training in some line of work. They will work a maximum of 66 hours per month, half of which will be for special training. This project is to open about June 1, Mr. Dark said.

Second Project.
The second new project, which will open about the middle of June, will be the establishment of a workshop here, which will be sponsored by the city administration. According to Mr. Dark, the city will furnish the location, and the NYA will provide the tools, machinery, supervision and labor. About 30 boys who come from needy families and who are not primary wage earners, will be given part-time employment in the workshop. The work will be repair work of all kinds for the city, county and schools. No private jobs will be taken, Mr. Dark said.

The project supervisor said until April 1 the NYA work in Navarro county was handled out of the district office located in Mexia, but the demands became so great that the need for more offices arose and the 22 counties in the Waco district were divided into 11 districts with an office established for every two counties.

Many Receive Employment.
There are approximately 150 boys and girls employed on NYA work in Navarro and Limestone counties, Mr. Dark said, and several new projects in addition to the two new ones in Corsicana are anticipated in the near future. At present, he said, there are four projects in operation in Navarro county employing about 60 boys and girls. The State Highway Department is employing about 30 boys per month on construction work, which was started last November. A number of boys are employed in the local Texas Relief Commission office; 13 girls are employed in the high school cafeteria; several girls are also working in the Texas Relief Commission office, and the county agent is employing a number of girls on a district-wide project. The project supervisor pointed out.

Mr. Dark expects to open new projects in Mexia in the near future, one being the employment of four girls per month in the Mexia library beginning June 1.

Ford Slips Back Into Work Routine After Celebration

DETROIT, April 14.—(AP)—Common citizen Henry Ford—never the man to go in much for the festive life—slipped back into his accustomed work routine Wednesday as casually as if Golden Wednesday anniversary were an ordinary occurrence.

While engaged with his laboratory problems, chiefly concerning a new tractor, the 74-year-old industrial leader must have felt secure however, in the knowledge that Dearborn is very proud of him.

Seven hundred friends and fellow citizens, with song and story, climaxed last night in Ford's "Independence Hall" of his early American village a two-day testi-

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Pickett Club.
"Using thimbles is very good. You may prick your fingers without one," said Miss Clara Rettiger. She gave each member a tape measure and a thimble.
In making our towels there was one finished and three started. Irene Vaughan is the only one that has finished hers. She used purple color to trim it with.

In planning our bedroom we should have small figured paper. If we use a blue figure we should paint our wood works and window panes to match.

There were five new members entered into the club. They are Hazel Mann, Bobbie Lee Mahoney, Royce Brannon, Dorothy Nichols, and Gay Nell Wright. The club has decided to make ice cream and sell it to the school children. We are going to use the money for a lining for the 4-H quilt we are piecing. The quilt is to be sold for money for the treasury.

We sang two songs: "Ten Pretty Girls" and "Old Black Joe." We played a game also. The meeting then adjourned.—Reporter.

Corbet Club.
"All windows and outside doors should be screened with fly-proof screens in order to safeguard health," Miss Clara Rettiger, home demonstration agent told 19 members of the Corbet Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon, April 12, in the home of Mrs. C. E. Osborne.

Miss Rettiger continued by saying, "The frame should extend over the entire window, should exactly fit and be removable so as to make window cleaning easy. Should be painted so as to prolong its use and add attractiveness to both the window and the house in general."

Miss Rettiger continued further by saying: "Windows are the eyes of the house through which we look out upon the world. Curtains and draperies should not conceal our view of the outdoors, but are used to secure privacy, regulate the amount of air and light, soften hard, sharp lines of window frames, introduce color and cheer and add a home-like touch."

After the meeting adjourned, the hostess, Mrs. C. E. Osborne, assisted by Mrs. M. E. Romar, served refreshments to the members and two visitors, Mrs. Jake Crawford of Grapevine and Mrs. Gordon Crawford.

The next meeting will be April 26 in the home of Mrs. M. E. Romar. All members are urged to be present.—Reporter.

FAIR PLAY FOR GRINGOS

The Mexicans had a grand celebration over the seizure of the oil wells owned by American and British citizens. It was grand to "nationalize" the petroleum industry, along with the railroads and great estates, according to a progressive program of socialization. The Mexican people have long felt poor and oppressed in a land naturally rich. Now they began to feel wealthy and to gloat over the "gringos."

Then came the morning after. The United States government announced that on April 1 it would quit buying Mexican silver, of which it has been taking 5,000,000 ounces a month, paying about 50 cents an ounce, more than the world's market price. It amounted to an American subsidy of the Mexican silver industry, and now the bottom drops out of that industry.

Meanwhile Mexico is also having trouble with the oil fields, lacking expert oil men and being unable to operate them with anything like the efficiency of the American engineers and business officials.

Few of our people today want to oppress Mexico, or gloat over any Mexican failures. We have mostly come to appreciate and like the Mexicans and wish them well. Even if they want to turn Socialist, that is none of our business—as long as they respect property and treaty rights and behave as good neighbors. We shall send no army into Mexico, as we sometimes did in the old days.

But if the Mexicans value the friendship and co-operation of our people and government, they will have to play fair themselves.

SWINGING ALONG.

As for the musical mayhem known as "swing," which makes all tunes sound pretty much alike to an unsophisticated ear, a band leader wants to know what difference it makes to anybody.

"After all," he says, "the public doesn't dance any more to melody, but to rhythm, so why worry as long as we make a number danceable?"

There is reason to worry, however, among the music publishers, according to another authority. They complain that the "swing outfits" shy away from current tunes, thus depriving them of sheet music sales, and get along by weaving swing variations into old tunes. It makes more orchestration sales, but there isn't so much profit in that as there should be in sheet music.

But publishers are said to be hastening the death of swing by reviving sentimental ballads and standard fox trots that almost anyone can sing or play. So there is cheer for the musical purists.

WAR VS. TRADE

The export of German cameras and photographic supplies has been sharply curtailed, not by foreign boycott or financial trend, but by Germany's own heavy armament program. The Reich government has commandeered 80 per cent of its camera makers' time and set them to making range-finders and other articles for field use. It is reported that one German company is six months behind with its American orders and is accepting no more.

The immediate effect of this situation is beneficial to American manufacturers

CHANCE AND CHOICE

The winds of chance beyond a doubt
Blow seeds of good and ill about
But in the hand which sows
The seeds of good, the winds of chance
Must go.
Who trusts his life to chance,
Must go.
Who trusts his life to chance,
Must go.
Who trusts his life to chance,
Must go.

No garden happens to be fair,
No lot is by chance the rose is there.
Or pinhead bloom. The winds of chance
Blow that low.
Did not set straight that tulip
Or place those marigolds we see
Precisely where they ought to be.
These bits of beauty plainly
Voice
The fact that they are here by choice!

And so with life. Not oft we'll find
A man who happens to be kind.
Or brave or faithful, clean or wise.
These traits which mortals cultivate
Are cultivated, long desired,
Practiced and patiently acquired
Until at last to him we see
All he has wished and worked to be.

EXCITEMENT ON THE SUN

Maybe we think we have strange goings-on here on Earth, but matters are not exactly normal on the Sun. Astronomers at Mt. Wilson observatory reported a short time ago a new flaming cloud of prominence shooting out beyond the sun's atmosphere to a record-breaking distance.

The cloud was composed of hydrogen and calcium gas. It was blown out with tornado force and extended 970,000 miles beyond the sun's atmosphere. It was 85,000 miles wide and was leaping 167,000 miles high when its tongues were first sighted. Its speed then was 65 miles a second but soon jumped to 200 miles a second.

This is just one of the phenomena observed which make the sun is now passing through the period of "greatest disturbances" in the history of modern astronomy.

If the scientists can only find out whether, and how, the sunspots affect human behavior, and if civilization can live through its present attack of self-inflicted violence, perhaps it will be possible to anticipate and counteract the influence of the next sunspot cycle, twenty-two years from now.

SELLING CLIMATE

Selling wooden nutmegs, as Connecticut used to be accused of doing, was nothing. Modern New Englanders, one of them boasts, have sold the country their worst liability—New England winters.

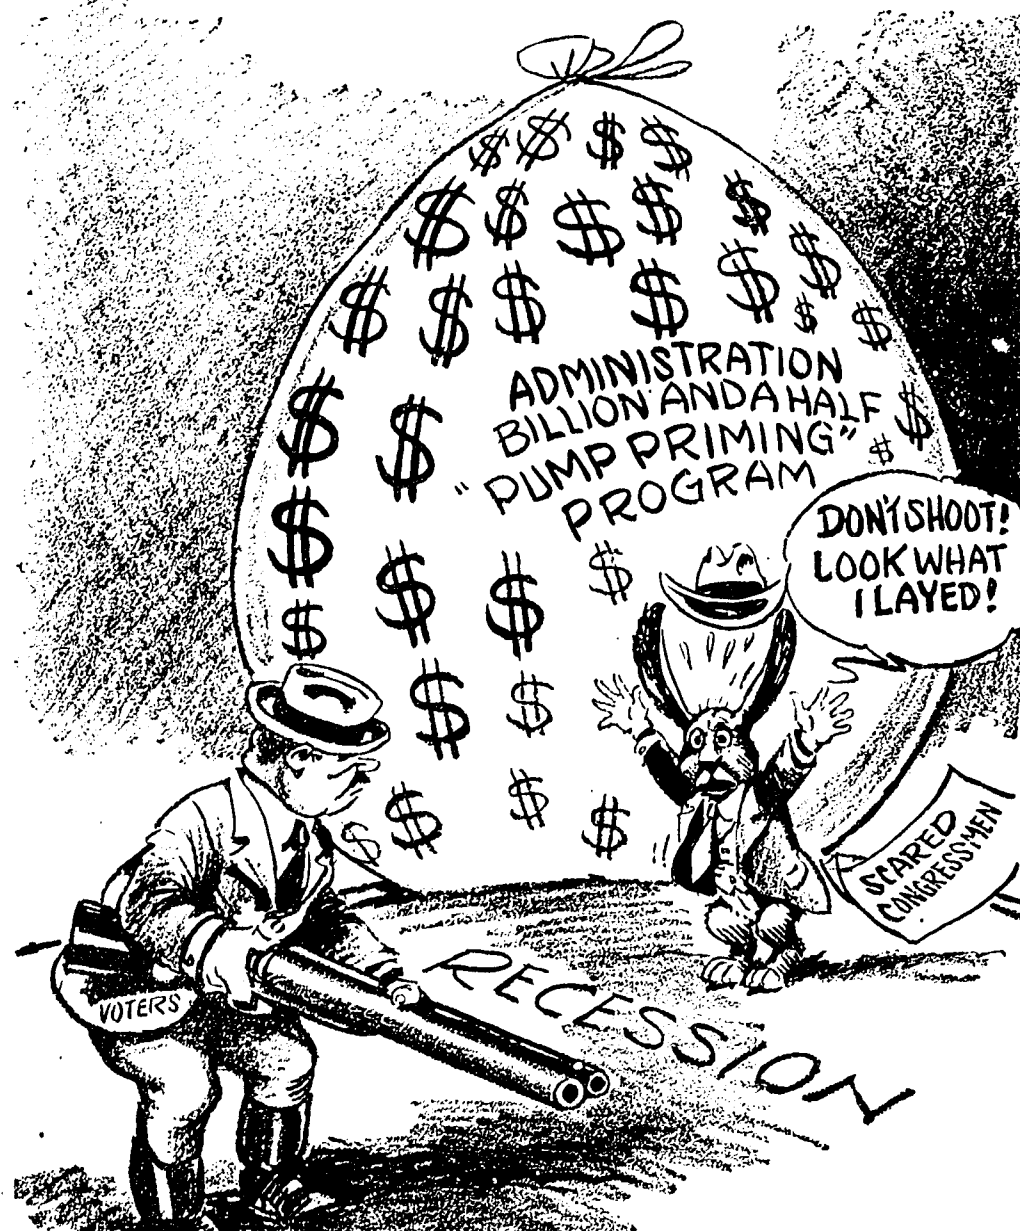

As Billy B. Van of New Hampshire, former vaudeville, explains the business: "We sold them winter sports along with the winter, and now we get them both ways, for we make the ski pants and sweaters and shoes and socks they have to wear. Last winter those sports were worth $1,000,000 a week to New England. The buyers doubtless got full value, too, in both weather and equipment."

The Yankee states haven't any monopoly on such business ingenuity, either. Nor has Florida or Colorado or California or any other region.

As a matter of fact, weather is coming to be one of our greatest national products, with many sections profiting by it. One man's weather may be another man's poison or health, according to the customer's point of view, and there are few sections of the country that can't market quite a bit of climate, along with the scenery, at some time of the year.

of photographic materials and equipment. It automatically removes some of their keenest competitors. The long run effect is likely to be beneficial, too. It is hard to get back into a market that has been voluntarily abandoned. German manufacturers now that she needs range-finders and other war stuff more than she needs a foreign market for cameras, films, etc. That view is economically shortsighted.

SELF PRESERVATION, THE FIRST LAW OF NATURE!

NORTH ATLANTIC AIR LINE

The test flights made last summer by British and American seaplanes in preparation for regular transatlantic service have now been followed by a successful conference of representatives of the governments of the United States, Great Britain, Canada and Ireland and of Pan American and Imperial Airways. The conference set up plans for radio communication, radio direction-finding, meteorological service and safety services. It also defined clearly the parts to be played by the operating companies and the different governments involved.

Further "exploratory" flights with a land plane and one of the Clipper planes will be made this coming summer. It is possible that both freight and mail service will be carried before the summer is over. Every phase of the service will be worked out in careful detail and every possible test made before passengers are carried, but the success of the Pacific air service seems to assure success in the new field.

MINORITY TROUBLES

The brave little nation of Czechoslovakia, it might as well be admitted, is doomed. In the presence of peril it is going to pieces. It is the same old, pitiful story of racial strife at the moment when coherence is needed more than ever before.

The German party, dominated by Nazis and doing the will of Hitler, hangs together with more unity than over. It is a small minority, but becomes the strongest minority group when the Slovaks, Hungarians and Poles, after years of successful co-operation, all start demanding autonomy. The dominant Czechs are powerless to hold out alone against all the others. Without a governing majority, it seems likely that the Nazis, backed by the overwhelming economic and military power of Germany, will soon be in power.

Here is the fatal plague afflicting so many small nations made of mixed races and trying to preserve their independence. Instead of putting their common humanity and common interests first, they put race first, and so fall apart at the first onslaught of foreign meddlers.

It is the glory and safety of the United States of America that we have really been able to fuse our many races into one nation.

TWENTY-YEAR OLD LETTER RECALLED CORSICANA HISTORY

EFFORTS TO GET HIGHWAY FROM CORSICANA TO PALESTINE ALIVE THEN

A twenty-year-old letter, written by John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light Company, Dallas, to J. J. Strickland, chairman of the board of the Great American Life Insurance Company, San Antonio, in the interest of getting a road to Palestine and a bridge across the Trinity river, was brought to light recently by Mr. Strickland, mailed to Mr. Carpenter who forwarded it to Lowry Martin.

Duren, our state highway engineer, and I know Mr. Duren will do all he can to help us, but it is up to us, our counties to wake up and to the importance of doing our part, to secure state and government aid.

Please keep the ball rolling in Anderson county and we will take care of Navarro, and we can accomplish our desire to get the bridge and a highway.

Don't hesitate to call upon me when ever you think we can help in any particular way. With best wishes, I am, reaching problem for the invaders.

The real sensation, however, is the increasing strength and activity of the Chinese armies, under the dictatorship of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Everywhere along the line of advance the Japanese have been encountering both rough and ready guerilla warfare and attacks employing European military tactics.

Latest reports state that the Chinese have brought the Japanese advance to a halt on the important central front of Shanghai. The Japanese are rushing reinforcements to this area and a major conflict is in prospect. If the Japanese win here, and history repeats itself, the Chinese will simply withdraw and be ready to fight another day.

The defenders have a vast advantage in the matter of manpower, which is well-nigh unlimited. And their recruits are right on the grounds, while the Japanese have to bring their fresh forces from the mother country.

May Grant Chinese Loans.
LONDON, April 14.—(AP)—The government "has under consideration" recommendations to British banks that they grant long term loans to the Chinese government, the house of commons was informed today.

Dr. Sun Fo, China's ambassador-at-large, who came to Europe to seek financial help for China in her war against Japan, has been in London the last two weeks urging British loans.

D. J. Colville, financial secretary to the treasury, told commons that if British banks approached the government for permission to lend to China such requests would be "sympathetically considered."

He added that the chancellor of the exchequer was considering action to "encourage" the granting of loans.

Financial aid to China was recommended by a resolution of the League of Nations assembly Oct. 5, 1937.

Dr. Sun, whose father, Sun Yat Sen, was considered founder of the Chinese republic, recently assured a private meeting of members of parliament that China was confident of defeating Japan.

Purge in Chinese Army.
SHANGHAI, April 14.—(AP)—Chinese dispatches from Hankow today told of a purge in the Chinese army by orders of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

It was said eight high-ranking officers had been executed for embezzlement, cowardice, plundering, mutiny or rape and eight others had been convicted of leaving posts without orders or otherwise breaking discipline.

The latter were given prison sentences ranging up to 12 years.

YOUR GARDEN: 4. INSECTS ETC.

PLANTING IS A CHALLENGE TO THE BUGS AND WEEDS

Last Of Four Articles

Almost everyone can be a pretty good gardener in April and May, when spring is in the blood. The real test comes during summer, when weeds shoot up to smother plants, and bugs fly in to eat them.

How your garden grows depends upon how it is afflicted with these pests and what you do about them.

Cultivating with a hoe—or a trowel if your garden is small—after every rainfall is a big help. It helps get rid of the weeds (though you may have to handpick some) and saves the soil is moist but not sticky.

The Two Bug Groups.

As for insect pests, there are two general groups, from the standpoint of control methods—sucking insects, from the like aphids and leafhoppers, which suck the sap, and chewing insects, like beetles and caterpillars, which eat part of the plant.

Montague, "Free in 'Gardening' (Harcourt, Brace).

The suckers must be actually hit by the insecticide used.

To fight them; the chewers are fought by applying a poison evening on the plant parts they attack.

For each type there are many commercial sprays and powders, or you can mix your own.

For sucking insects, here is one solution Mr. Free offers; one teaspoonful of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate, a scant ounce of flaked or powdered soap, and a gallon of water. For chewing insects you can try a mixture of one and a half pounds of dry lead arsenate to 40 gallons of water. (But don't use this at the same time as a spray containing soap, or foliage will be injured.)

A compressed air sprayer holds it in to eat them.

Hand-Picking Pests.

A good way to fight some of the pests is to handpick them, dropping them into a can of kerosene. (If cats and dogs are too fond of the garden, Mr. Free reports that two teaspoonsful of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate in one gallon of water, sprayed on plants and shrubs, may keep them away.)

When you water the garden, use enough to wet the soil to a depth of at least a foot. Evening is the best time, for there is less evaporation then.

Most ornamental trees and shrubs do not require much annual pruning and unless you know all about the process, better do nothing but remove dead and diseased branches. But if you do prune a tree or a bush, prune the top to compensate for the loss of roots.

And keep in mind that a plant's one aim in life is to produce seeds. When that's accomplished, the plant is ready to die. So if you snip off faded blooms, thus preventing seeding, you'll get more flowers.

Arkansas Liquor Tax Questioned

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 14.—(AP)—Constitutionality of Arkansas' recently enacted export liquor tax was challenged today on the contention that it was a tax on interstate commerce.

Collins Liquors, Inc., West Memphis, filed suit in Pulaski chancery court to test validity of the statute and obtained a temporary injunction preventing Commissioner Z. M. McCarroll from forcing it to pay the tax.

The recent special legislature fixed an export tax of 60 cents a case on liquor sold by Arkansas dealers to agents in dry states in comparison to a domestic tax of $2.40 per case on all liquor sold in Arkansas for local consumption.

AMERICAN FARMERS HAVE SLIM CHANCE REGAINING MARKETS

SECRETARY WALLACE NOT OPTIMISTIC IN STATEMENT ON AGRICULTURE BILL

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace today told Congress the farmer has a slim chance of regaining in the next decade the world markets he once had.

He estimated the chances are 20 to 1 against a return, within 10 years, of world-wide prosperity which would mean huge untitled American produce. But the odds are only 5 to 1, he said, against that condition prevailing within the next 30 years.

The secretary's statements were contained in the record of congressional appropriations subcommittee, however, these factors might change his predictions.

Mitigation of "this extraordinary international war psychology," "unusual success" of Secretary Wallace's trade agreement policy and a flow of international capital into channels "where constructive things can be done with it."

Weather Partly to Blame. Wallace blamed the weather in part for inability of farm income. He recalled the serious drought of 1936 and the excellent weather conditions last year. "When we have differences like that, we have wide fluctuations in farm income," he added.

The farm bill, the secretary predicted, will result in greater farm price stability than the original agricultural adjustment act and will more nearly meet needs of both the farmer and the consumer.

Wallace complained that supreme court invalidation of the AAA processing taxes placed government farm programs in jeopardy. He said the principal source of revenue. "Must Come Each Year." "I feel," he told the subcommittee, "that it is a serious matter that the farmers lost the program. It is now necessary for them, in their efforts to get a fair share of the national income, to come every year to congress and ask for this very large appropriation. It is conceivable that some congress will arise which is unfriendly to agriculture instead of being friendly, as the recent congresses have been. Then the farmer's share, in the national income, would be further below a fair share, than it is at the present time."

H. R. Tolley, AAA administrator, said the department expected the farm program would cost $428,000,000 for the next fiscal year. He estimated that $1,000,000,000 would be required if congress authorized payment of parity prices for cotton, wheat and rice. Parity prices are those which would give a farmer a return for his crops equal to the 1914-1919 average.

WHITNEY WHISKED AWAY TUESDAY TO SING SING PRISON

OSSENING, N. Y., April 12.—(AP)—Richard Whitney became No. 04835 in Sing Sing prison today. For the next three years and four months, possibly longer, he will have no other identity, as he does whatever work is assigned to him.

The convicted broker, five times president of the New York Stock Exchange, arrived at Ossining station from New York with five other prisoners and guards at 12:20 p. m. to begin serving his 5 to 10 year sentence for grand larceny in the misuse of securities entrusted to his care.

Handcuffed to two of the prisoners, Whitney was sped up the hill to the "big house," forceful still in hearing and apparently unmoved by the presence of numerous photographers.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—Richard Whitney, handcuffed to an extortionist and a man convicted of assault, was put aboard a train for Sing Sing today while fully 5,000 men and women, in and around the Grand Central station, tried to catch a glimpse of him.

The train left the station at 11:30 a. m. and was due at Ossining fifteen minutes later. From the station in that town Whitney and his guards and the other prisoners were to be sped to the big gray prison where he will begin serving his 5-to-10 year term for grand larceny.

Outside the old Tombs prison downtown, where Whitney spent the night, there were crowds on the sidewalks, and from the windows of nearby buildings hundreds of persons watched his departure in the "black Maria."

Crowds jammed the concourse of Grand Central, swarmed through Pershing Square on the 42nd street side, and in Depew Place at the rear through which the train ran.

Shackled to the once powerful broker, who served five terms as president of the New York Stock Exchange, were Albert Cain, sentenced to serve from one to three years for attempted extortion, and Richard Alton, sentenced to a 2-to-4-year term for second degree assault.

Five guards accompanied them, which followed the back entrance of the station to track 32, they were put aboard the first coach and took seats. The curtains were drawn.

Force and strength were still evident in Whitney's bearing.

Warm sunshine was slanting through the narrow windows of the old Tombs prison and on the towers of Wall street, a mile south, when Whitney rose from his first night's sleep behind bars.

Breakfast was offered him—farina and milk, bread, jelly and coffee. He captured the farina and milk, jail attaché said, but drank a mugful of coffee and ate several slices of bread and jelly.

A jail trusty shaved him and was paid 25 cents by Whitney.

Miss Beth Dupree Wed J. E. Gragg In Palestine Monday

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Beth Dupree of Palestine, a former popular Corsicana girl, by her's and her parents' many friends here; and the following account of her wedding taken from the Palestine Herald, will be read with interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Bennett and their daughters Misses Beth and Doris Dupree made their home here for several years and both young ladies were popular students of the Senior and Junior high schools.

After graduation Miss Beth Dupree was secretary to Mr. Franklin Seal until the Bennett family moved to Palestine about two years ago.

"In a pretty and impressive ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bennett, 1301 Sylvan avenue, Miss Beth Dupree and Mr. J. E. Gragg, son of J. R. Gragg of Oakwood were united in marriage Monday morning, April 11, at 10 o'clock. The Rev. F. W. Langham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church read the impressive ring ceremony before an improvised altar arranged of palms and Easter lilies before the mantel. On either side were tall, floor baskets of white gladioli, decorated with bows of white ribbon, also floor candelabra in which twenty-two cathedral candles all aglow cast a soft light over the scene.

The home was beautifully decorated with white stock Shasta daisies, white roses and syringia. The bride was wearing a cinnamon sheer wool alpaca, with beige accessories. Her corsage was of cream colored gladioli.

After the ceremony, punch was served with the bride's cake which was a lovely three-tier confection topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake on a silver platter surrounded by white blossoms held the central place on the table which was laid in an Italian cut work cloth. White ribbon streamers emanated from the cake to tiny clusters of valley lilies at the edge of the board. White tapers in two five-branch candelabras added a further decorative touch to the table and the buffet.

After a honeymoon trip to Monterey, Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Gragg will make their home at Oakwood. Mr. Gragg is a graduate chemist of A. and M. college. Mrs. Gragg was employed as secretary to Ned B. Morris, lawyer, until her marriage."

18th Century. Mrs. Price gave newspaper items of musical interest and plans were made for the next and last meeting, hostess to be announced later.

A plate suggestive of the Easter season in its appointments was served. Guests other than club members were George Ray Bradley, Kenneth Stovall, Betty Jo Smith and Mrs. Grover Crawford, mother of the hostess.

J. C. Penney Has Returned Farm Where Was Born

HAMILTON, April 13.—(P)—J. C. Penney, millionaire chain store executive, has returned to his first trade—livestock raising—on the farm where he was born 32 years ago.

Ruddy "Neighbor Jim" welcomed 5,000 northwest Missouri farmers yesterday as he opened his new perchon division, dedicated to improving the draft stock of his native state. On the same farm, 34 years ago 8-year-old Jim raised pigs to help buy his own clothes. But young Jim did not continue long in his first breeding venture. He turned instead to a clerking job that paid $2.27 a month and eventually led to the chairmanship of the Penney board.

Now he has returned to his first love. He purchased the 400-acre farm and 162 adjoining acres and stocked them with fine perchon and Belgian stallions, brood mares and jacks.

NAVARRO COUNTY TEACHERS MEET IN BANQUET SESSION

TWO SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS

Two Southern Methodist University professors, Dr. G. O. Clough, of the extension department, and T. D. Stewart, of the music department, were the speakers at the Navarro county Teachers' association banquet Tuesday evening in the State Orphan Home dining room. H. C. Clough, of the extension department, and T. D. Clough, of the extension department, and T. D. Stewart, of the music department, were the speakers at the Navarro county Teachers' association banquet Tuesday evening in the State Orphan Home dining room.

C. G. Strickland of Purdon led in the singing of "Texas, Our Texas," and the invocation was pronounced by President Filgo. Mr. Waller introduced J. Stanford Halley, superintendent of the State Home, who welcomed the visiting teachers on behalf of himself and the State Home. After the dinner had been served, President Filgo presided at the business meeting. Mr. Strickland read minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved. Melvin Taylor, superintendent of the Emhouse schools, read the constitution, which was adopted unanimously after a slight change. Other members of the constitution committee were H. A. Garland, superintendent of the Mildred schools and B. A. Jeffries, principal of the State Home school.

Superintendents Introduced. Mr. Garland announced the county administrators meeting May 5 at Barry. The visiting speakers were introduced by G. H. Brown, county superintendent. Mr. McCorkle was introduced by Mr. Waller. The speaker said "we as teachers are born with capacities create a desire in a person for the finer emotions in life, whereas we appreciate them only after a series of experiences. We are taught us that a man has a two-sided life, that is reactions to mental and physical stimuli, but now we know there is a third phase, the emotional. Children are born with capacities to hear, to see and to feel," the speaker continued, "but it is only after experiences in these fields that the capacities grow into abilities, and the more experiences the machinery the more care should be exercised in developing them."

"It is nobody's business but yours whether or not you develop good taste, good manners and good habits, but you are responsible as teachers to develop the third, or emotional side of a child's life," Mr. McCorkle went on.

Appreciation of Good Music. Referring to an appreciation of good music, Mr. McCorkle did not suggest teaching every child to play the piano or violin, "that is all right," he declared, "but it doesn't necessarily give the child an appreciation of the finest music. Beauty is something to study and to be understood, and places neglected to teach the child this particular capacity of feeling." "The psychiatrists have shown that music is second only to religion in stirring one's emotion, and music can produce very definite effects, good or bad, on people. Music is an inescapable part of our everyday lives," he said, "and it cannot pass through us without having its good or bad effect, so it behooves us to study the literature of music, not only to study it as a music subject, but it may be used in the teaching of mathematics, history or physical education."

Mr. McCorkle commented upon the abundance of questionnaires that he purchased at every corner drug store, and said children should not be exposed to such literature in their formative stages of development. He again quoted psychiatrists as saying music, art and literature are used as a cure for mental disorders, and they suggest that those subjects be used as a preventative to such disorders.

In closing, the speaker said "Aesthetic appreciation develops emotional liberality; it keeps a person from having opinionated decisions, and makes him consider the feeling of his neighbors."

Dr. Clough was introduced by Mr. Waller. Education—Old and New. The speaker announced his subject as "Education—Old and New." He declared that there are three questions that are important in considering education. He asked the questions and answered them:

1. What is education? The old conception of education was a preparation for adult life, acquiring knowledge and formal discipline. The new concept is life, growth, renewing of experience, orienting the individual to his development, developing personality, knowing, giving information, feeling, developing the right attitudes, doing, and the right responses to actual life situations.

2. What is teaching? Judged by the old standards, the speaker said, learning is memorizing subject matter; the student is a pliable organism, while the teacher is an expounder, a drillmaster, a disciplinarian, a type of interpretation of learning. Dr. Clough added, is to give a child experiences whereby he may learn only through his own effort.

Dr. Clough added, is to give a child experiences whereby he may learn only through his own effort.

Makes Comparisons. In the next portion of his address, Dr. Clough compared old and new education. He said old tenets of education face the past, orienting youth into the past, fixed habits, customs and social heritage, while new education faces the future. Without neglecting the past, Dr. Clough went on, new education orients youth into the present and aids him to consider possibilities of the future.

Old education emphasized a narrow, limited experience, like three R's, while new education endeavors to give a rich, broad area of experience. Old education went on, emphasized facts and specific skills, while new educa-

YOUR GARDEN: 3. BEANS—WINDOW BOXES

Third Of Four Articles

If you're "just crazy" about growing something, and if you like the feel of soil-caked hands and of the sun beating on the back of your neck, you probably won't be satisfied with a few beds of flowers.

Then you can try a vegetable garden. It's fun, even though it may not save you much money. Locate it in the sun, out the way of large trees, and plant it in rows. That makes cultivation easier.

Stagger Your Planting. By "staggering" your planting, you can have a succession of crops. In the vicinity of New York city, for instance, radishes can be planted from a r. l. y. spring to September, be e. t. s. from April to August, carrots from April to July, lettuce from May 15 to August, onion sets from early spring to May 15, peas from March 15 to May 15, and from August 1 to 20. In the same locality, turnips, Swiss chard, parsley and parsnips are planted in April, cucumbers about May 20, tomato and pepper plants in late May, spinach in March and September.

Better ask your seed store man how much seed you'll need, says Montague Free in "Gardening" (Harcourt, Brace). It takes only a quart of seed of lettuce, onion or parsley seed for a 100-foot row, but a pint of dwarf beans and a quart of onion sets or peas.

How About A Wild Garden? If you have a shady area, you might try a wild garden. Grow such flowers as lady-slipper, trailing arbutus, columbine, violets, trillium and mountain-laurel. You can raise them from seed or cuttings. Buy them from your nursery man or collect plants in the woods. (But be sure there are no restrictions against such collecting.)

Before planting such a garden, it's good to see for yourself under what conditions the flowers grow in nature. Similarly, if you're going to have a rock garden, study natural rock arrangements first. Tilt your rocks toward the soil so rain can get to the roots easily. If large rocks crop out of your property, you can turn them into pleasing landscape features by planting junipers or cotoneasters.

Window-Box Gardens. If your space is limited to window boxes, you can still have a garden. The chief requirement is that the soil be rich and well-drained. For a general-purpose soil, Mr. Free advises one consisting of two parts loam and one part decayed manure, with a pint of bonemeal to a bushel.

When it becomes filled with roots, it will need feedings every four or five weeks. You can use liquid manure—an ounce of water to a quart of manure—or about 5-10-5, in a gallon of water, or a level tablespoonful of the same fertilizer cultivated into each square foot of surface.

Window boxes should be at least eight inches deep and 10 wide. The bottom board should have half-inch holes about six inches apart to permit the escape of surplus water.

HOME-MADE CREAMS.

Every woman enjoys making a cream for herself one time or another, so read what Miss Forbes tells you about it in today's chat.

A few days ago I spoke of the value of a rich cream for skins needing extra feeding. A cream in which there is some lanolin was suggested, and since there have been so many letters asking for such a cream formula, I feel a little information on the making of a cream will be helpful.

The oil content of a cream is the important part of its formula, and it is the only part that is helpful to the skin. A fine oil like that of the imported sweet almond oil tops the list of dainty and also nourishing oils for the skin. Most women will be able to afford this oil, when they save so much by making their own creams.

Some women prefer to use the oil just as it is for their skins, rather than the whole mixture with the waxes, and liquids, used to emulsify the oil so they are formulated into a cream. It all depends upon what your skin needs, which treatment would be best.

T. T.—After your hair is arranged completely, touch the ends of the stray hairs, ever so lightly, with the palms of your hands on which there are a few drops of oil. It is a very quick process, as all you do it to outline your head, keeping the palms about an inch away from your hair proper. The frowny ends get touched and the very wee bit of oil is enough to cause them to drop back into the hair. A fine oil, any such oil will do, and it need not necessarily be what is commonly known as a "brilliantine."

Mrs. W. B.—There is nothing that will restore grey hair to its natural color; at least, nothing but a dye, and that cannot be considered as a means of "restoring the natural color."

Mrs. L.—Facial exercise is even better than a massage, because it is an intelligent direction of the muscles to do the work; on the same principle as exercising the body anywhere, rather than massaging it. Bodily strength is developed, too, by exercising, because the mind is directing it. No discount, although, upon massage when exercise is not possible, and this is also when it comes to that for the facial muscle. There are movements, and ways of pronouncing certain tones, in which fleshy muscles must work to effect healthful exercising. The aim is to lift the muscles from the base of the throat, and on up clear to the top of the head.

INTERNAL REVENUE ZONE OFFICE TO BE OPENED CORSICANA

A bureau of internal revenue zone office, which will handle business of Navarro, Ellis, Henderson, Anderson and Houston counties, will be established in the basement of the Corsicana post office in the near future. It was learned here today. C. Allyn Gordon, recently of the Tyler office, will have charge of the Corsicana office.

The office was formerly located at Tyler. All matters pertaining to federal taxes, including social security collections and records, will be handled here. W. A. Thomas, head of the Dallas office, has ordered fixtures and supplies, which are expected in the next few days.

The office will be a permanent one.

Application was made for such an office some time ago but the first request was turned down. Postmaster Allison stated, Rep. Luther A. Johnson, however, kept after the office and finally got its approval. Mr. Allison said.

Daughter Is Born To Dallas Couple Well Known Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Vann received word Monday evening of the birth of a daughter to their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Burleson of Dallas at 9:15 p. m. at the Florence Nightingale Hospital.

Mrs. Burleson was formerly Miss Lauraine Trotman of Dallas, who is well known here from her frequent visits to her aunt and uncle.

Her many friends join in extending hearty congratulations at this time.

Highlights From Recovery Message

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—High spots of President Roosevelt's recovery message were: There can be no dictatorship by an individual or by a group in this nation, save through division fostered by hate. Such division there must never be.

In the western hemisphere the good neighbor policy has so strengthened the American republic that a spiritual unit in our relations now prevails. Can that good neighbor message be accepted and practiced in our national life?

All the energies of government and business must be directed to increasing the national income; to putting more people into private jobs, to giving security and the feeling of security to all people in all walks of life.

I believe that improvement in government and business practices must go hand in hand with recovery that they should be, and will be, a definite aid to recovery.

Our immediate task is to consolidate and maintain the gains achieved.

We must start again on a long steady upward incline in national income.

Our capacity is limited only by our ability to work together. What is needed is the will.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR ROOSEVELT'S PLAN TO END RECESSION

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Democrats in congress said generally today President Roosevelt's relief program would break the backbone of the depression; republicans assailed further efforts at pump priming.

House democratic leader, Rayburn (D-Tex.) called the message a "masterful portrayal" in conditions confronting the country. If its proposals are carried out, he said, "it will greatly facilitate recovery by creating work, enhancing opportunities for business and creating confidence."

House Republican Leader Snell remarked he did not "see much use in priming the pump unless you are sure there is some water in the well. The resources of the country are almost running dry."

Chairman O'Connor (D-N.Y.) of the house rules committee, who led the fight that killed the administration's reorganization bill, likewise said pump priming would do no good without water in the well.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC) predicted the plan outlined would "start business on the up-grade." "The increase in appropriations over the budget estimate will amount to not more than $1,000,000,000," Byrnes said. He added that the devaluation of gold is "sound and desirable" and that "the severest critic of the President will approve of the conciliatory tone of the message."

From Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) came the comment: "I applaud the President's recognition of the new depression and his purpose finally to attack it. But when I take his advice 'to avoid the pitfalls of the past,' I must reject his renewal of a profligate spending program, with its deficits and debts, because that is the route in part, which has brought us where we unhappily are."

mercantile agreement and that Pierre Etienne Flandin, former premier and advocate of French co-operation with Italy, might become ambassador to Rome.

Other irons in the fire for the British and French governments were announced in the house of commons that the British government was considering recommending that British banks grant loans to China, engaged in war with Japan.

Britain's problem of her expropriated oil properties in Mexico, whose government has flatly rejected London's demand for the properties' return.

France's problem of getting 157,000 striking metal workers back to work and prevent further strikes.

Wars in Spain and China rolled on without the decisive stroke required to tip the scales.

Spanish insurgents reported government resistance to the insurgent drive toward the coast was "growing feeble."

Japanese forces clung to Yih-sien, spearhead of their southern Shantung salient, while Chinese artillery pounded the town.

Switzerland Careful.
WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—The state department said today Switzerland, although accepting the American proposal to aid Austrian and German refugees, had suggested that the International committee which is to be set up in some other country.

Switzerland suggested that it would be preferable to hold the conference in some other country "where the situation is more suitable to the special problems which will be discussed."

This means, state department officials said, that Switzerland does not want to be host for fear of disturbing her relations with her neighbor, Germany.

Memorial Services.
Memorial services will be held at the Cade cemetery Tuesday, April 26, it has been announced. The memorial sermon will be preached at 11 o'clock in the morning and the remainder of the day will be given to working and beautifying the cemetery.

and grants; an additional $100,000,000 for public roads; an additional $30,000,000 for flood control and reclamation projects already authorized and an additional $25,000,000 for federal buildings.

A third group listed by the chief executive referred to private credit. It involved de-stabilization of $1,400,000,000 of gold and a reduction by the federal reserve board of member bank requirements which would add another $750,000,000 to credit resources of the nation's banks. With these actions, Mr. Roosevelt coupled a simplification of security commission regulations to expedite small-business financing.

Abundant Supply of Funds.
"These measures," the president said, "will make more abundant the supply of funds for commerce, industry and agriculture."

"De-stabilized gold is metal which the treasury has held inactive. It will lead to inflation, by borrowing to meet the purchase cost. Putting this gold into circulation by issuing gold certificates to the banks will increase bank resources. Member banks of the federal reserve system are required to keep a certain amount of funds on deposit with reserve banks as security against deposits."

Mr. Roosevelt said the total "out of pocket cost to the federal government" under the new PWA program should be limited to $1,000,000,000 and that loans granted should not be made on projects which cannot be started within six months after legislation is enacted and completed within a year and a half.

The president proposed the PWA advances should be put into optional form: Either the existing method of a 45 per cent grant and 55 per cent loan or a loan of the whole sum with the federal government assuming the interest payment.

While asking for authority to spend $500,000,000 and lend up to $1,000,000,000 for public works, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not expect the total outlay to exceed $1,000,000,000 and listed only the smaller sum in a tabular breakdown in his message.

PWA officials said they thought the language of the message would make possible a $1,450,000,000 outlay if all the money were advanced on the basis of the federal government granting 45 per cent and lending 55 per cent of the cost. Applied to the full sum was 45-55 division this would involve $1,000,000,000 and leave $450,000,000 for possible full-cost loans.

Mr. Roosevelt said there still were improvements in government and business practices which would be "a definite aid to recovery."

Certain Needs.
"While I do not wish in this message to over-emphasize some of the needs," the President said, "I do want to say that I believe that we must be definitely aware of certain of them—the elimination of future tax exempt bonds of all kinds of government agencies; the subjecting of government securities to the same kind of all kinds of federal and state income taxes; a serious undertaking to solve the railroad problem and the problems of monopolistic practices and price fixing."

"The never-ceasing evolution of human society will doubtless bring forth new problems which will require new adjustments. Our immediate task is to consolidate and maintain the gains achieved."

"In this situation there is no reason and no occasion for any American to allow his fears to be aroused or his energy and enterprise to be paralyzed by doubt or uncertainty."

"Our situation is vastly different from that which we faced five years ago. Let us use the tools already forged and laid out on the bench. xxxthe problem calls for immediate action both by the government and by the people. xxx"

Let every business man set out to use his strength of mind and heart and his confidence in his fellow man and his country. Let every labor leader find not how work can be stopped but how it can be made to proceed smoothly, continuously and fairly. Let every public official consider that his task is to use his authority so that the people can be protected from curbing abuses and helping honest effort. Let every one of us work together to move the life of the nation forward."

Faces Troubled World.
Saying that the United States, a "successful democracy" faces a troubled world, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The United States retaining free speech and free exchange of views can furnish a dynamic example of successful government, provided the nation can unite in practical measures when the times call for united action."

"In the western hemisphere the good neighbor policy has so strengthened the American republic that a spiritual unit in our relations now prevails. Can that good neighbor message be accepted and practiced in our national life?"

Discussing causes of the depression, which many administration critics have blamed upon the White House, Mr. Roosevelt said efforts of the government to stimulate business were "so well recognized at the end of 1933 that the business community and the government felt that a large measure of the government's spending activities could be materially reduced."

"But the very vigor of the recovery," the President continued, "in both durable and consumers' goods brought into the picture early in 1937 certain highly undesirable practices which were in large part responsible for the economic decline which began in the later months of that year."

Fear Emphasized.
"There are three reasons for this over-production. One was fear—fear of war abroad, fear of Good Neighbor Talk on Air.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt took to the air on Pan-American Day today to spread farther his gospel of the "good neighbor"—a doctrine now undergoing a severe test in relations with Mexico.

The President's good will message came while the state department was trying to solve the problem raised by Mexico's confiscation of American oil properties.

The settlement may establish a principle that would affect investments in Latin American countries totaling billions of dollars.

The principle is that Latin American nations, in their national interest, may expropriate foreign-owned properties by paying the amount of the original investment, minus depreciation.

"It should be noted," the president said, "that state and local public works undertaken on a loan basis instead of a loan and grant basis will reduce the item in the first classification."

President Worked Late on Messages

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt burned the midnight oil two nights on his relief message to congress.

An aide disclosed today he was at work on the paper until "a quarter of three" this morning after writing away until 1:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Most of today was allotted to more work on the recovery program and his "fireside chat" tonight when he will explain to the country his proposals for
